SHRINE INDOOR CIRCUS

To be staged at MECHANICS BUILDING, Boston, Mass.
Huntington Avenue

DECEMBER 10 to 20, 1924

INCLUSIVE, EXCEPT SUNDAY

Executive Offices: 11th Floor, 262 Washington St., Boston. Office Hours, 9 to 9. Phone Main 4525

Dear Noble:—

In 1923, the Shrine Circus entertained at least 250,000 people. It was a big success. It established the reputation of the Shriners to do big things. There is a public demand for a return engagement.

It has been decided for 1924 to have the proceeds go to the benefit of the ALEPPO TEMPLE CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S FUND and the Los Angeles Pilgrimage Fund.

The Circus will be held at Mechanics Building, Boston, December 10th to 20th. The entire building has been engaged, giving the additional space of Exhibition Hall, Paul Revere Hall, and Talbot Hall, which will amply take care of the crowded conditions of last year.

The show will be correspondingly bigger and better—25 big star acts—the best in the world. In addition, there will be an old-time side show of 20 or more Freaks and Curiosities.

The season ticket at 50 cents, which will be good for ten nights and two Saturday Matinees, will give more for the money than any show in the world has ever given.

So much for the assurance of a wonderful show, but it requires a big expenditure of money and energy to put it across. It is hoped every Noble will not take it for granted that the success of last year can be enjoyed unless every one takes hold energetically and promotes that success. You can sell the tickets assured you are giving more than the value. The sale will be easy when the purpose is explained. We ask you to find the customers.

The selling arguments are: A Big Show; the small cost of the ticket—good for 12 performances; participation in the distribution of the Cadillac Touring, Buick Sedan and Maxwell Coupé that are to be given away.

And, BEST OF ALL, the dedication of the funds to ALEPPO TEMPLE'S CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S FUND, and ALEPPO TEMPLE'S prestige at Los Angeles.

Enclosed are two (2) books of tickets. Please sell them to your friends and return $20 to the Shrine Circus (checks or money orders), 262 Washington St., Room 1100, Boston, Mass.

of ice cream ; 600 lbs. of cake ; 350 gallons of coffee ; 150 cases of ginger ale ; 600 gallons of fruit punch.

A crew of men are kept busy preparing food and replenishing the tables throughout the evening.

There are Directors for the second section who invent the "laughs"; the Degree Team that "puts" them over; the Medical Staff, Electricians, Stage Hands, Door Guards, Fire Patrol, Caretakers for paraphernalia, men to prepare equipment, and other Nobles to look after innumerable minor details.

All of this the Potentate checks up, seeing that his subordinates are familiar with their special work.

When you take into consideration that all of this force give enthusiastic service you must recognize the Potentate's resourcefulness. It takes a man with great qualities for leadership to gather about him in loyal cooperation so large a group. He has to be a magnetic, friendly man, with lovable qualities, to get so many to work for the pleasure of serving with him.

The Potentate also spends the average working hours of every working day at the Shrine office, where he meets the Nobles, and deals in the human affairs that come to his attention. It may be the cordial hand clasp, the hearty greeting, the winning smile that men come to receive; but here and there is a job to be got, a favor to be done, advice to be given, a letter to some Potentate in a distant city,—but whatever it is, the magnetism of his personality makes for the better of the Shrine, and the fraternal spirit.

The growth and development of Aleppo Temple is interesting—our present Potentate has obligated more than 10,000 members. In 1914 the membership was 7500. It is now 15,300.

This concise statement regarding the Temple may be likened to a newspaper; we get its benefits at a small cost, and do not stop to think what is required mentally and physically to produce it.

Back to the Patrol and Drum Corps

In 1910 the Patrol had 27 members. Today it has nearly 200, counting supernumeraries.

The Drum Corps was organized in 1917 with 28 men. Today it has 218 musicians with every known musical instrument and several strictly original ones.

Both organizations, particularly the Drum Corps, have given their services whenever they could help the local fraternity—thereby making the contribution of Aleppo Temple.

and the Circus Dec. 10 to 20th

If the foregoing has exemplified our general activities, and in your judgment shown a worthiness of purpose, we hope for the favor of your encouragement and support.

Lest We Forget!

Out of whatever profits there may be we propose to give a liberal share to the Aleppo Temple Crippled Children's Hospital Fund, because we must not forget that the Shrine has a higher purpose since a soul was put into the organization by the founding of the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospitals.

Yours in the Faith,

FRED E. BOLTON, Major Patrol

LOUIS HARLOW, Leader Drum Corps

WHY The CIRCUS?

A few intimate facts concerning the Arab Patrol, Drum Corps, and the Working Elements of Aleppo Temple

An occasional Noble asks why it is the Patrol and Drum Corps conduct public entertainments and enlist the support of the Nobility in promoting the sale of tickets.

The reason is, the Patrol and Drum Corps desire to be an asset to the Temple; and, so far as possible, finance themselves by offering to the public that class of attractive entertainment that is not only popular, but gives to the ticket purchaser the full worth of their money. Every dollar that is raised through such enterprises is a dollar saved to the Temple and correspondingly a saving to the general membership.

Why is Money Needed?

At the annual meetings of the Imperial Council of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of North America, it is the custom for the several Temples to be represented, in addition to the elected Representatives, by the Arab Patrols and Drum Corps (Bands) who take part in the two official parades and other functions that have become the big attraction in the entertaining city.

There is a competitive pride in the showing made by the various Temples—Aleppo can claim, with due modesty, to rank among the best. It is so recognized. At Kansas City last June Aleppo was generally acclaimed the best.

What do the Uniformed Men Give?

The nobles who wear the uniform give perhaps more than is realized. You see them at the Ceremonials, but probably do not give a thought as to how these organizations have been built up. Week after week hours are spent in drill and rehearsing. A constant and sincere effort must be made to produce in an efficient way novel and spectacular features to entertain the Nobility.

It requires intensive training and the highest individual attendance average to keep pace with the persistent aim for a better state of perfection. Much time is taken from business and social activities. The individual cost to the members for meals and travel is no small item. The personnel of the Patrol and Drum Corps is based on character, intelligence, and the willingness to serve. Some may believe the trips referred to are milk-and-honey affairs, not knowing the strict regulations that are precedent conditions to the right to wear the uniform.

It is quite wonderful that so large a Patrol and a Drum Corps could be organized with a solidarity that accounts for nearly 100% of its membership on every occasion for service.

What the Service Inspires?

The uniformed Nobles naturally are in an environment that has the Aleppo atmosphere. It talks Aleppo—thinks Aleppo—loves Aleppo—serves Aleppo. It can be fully demonstrated that a good proportion of “the poor Sons of the Desert who seek the protecting dome of our goodly Temple” are sponsored by members of the Patrol and Drum Corps. It could not be otherwise in the spirit of service.

ALEPPO TEMPLE AN INSTITUTION

While on this general subject, a brief word on the working elements of Aleppo Temple may be of interest.

It is like a big business.

First there is the Potentate. He is the General Manager—directing and supervising the officers of the Temple.

He has a corps of assistants, both elective and appointed that are called the Divan, and is made up of several hundred Nobles who have more or less assigned for them to do according to their positions.

The Recorder looks after the personnel of the membership, keeping a record of their standing, mailing addresses, and is the agency for the collection of fees and dues. He is the contact man. With 15,300 members it requires an efficient and systematic set of records. Our Recorder is the Dean of his colleagues, and likewise the Imperial Recorder,—a prominent national figure in the Shrine.

The Treasurer receives from the Recorder the payments made by members of the Temple, the income from invested funds, and makes disbursements when duly approved.

The Recorder and the Treasurer are the only paid officials of the Temple.

The Steward looks after the commissary or food supplies at all functions. At a Ceremonial he caters to from 8,000 to 10,000 persons. It requires, for example,

(the last ceremonial) 160 gallons of oysters to be escalloped; 150 gallons of vegetable salad; 3300 lbs. of cooked meats, 550 lbs. frankfurts; 400 dozen rolls; 500 loaves of bread; 200 dozen doughnuts; 300 lbs. cheese; 325 gallons
